Your article is insightful, but it lacks scientific depth as the general literature presentation doesn't meet the requirements. You should provide an overview aligned with the issue you've raised to address the contents of the topic "Empowering Intelligence: The Evolution of Higher Education in Tamil Nadu towards Innovation and Excellence." The research methodology section also needs revision to clarify how you address your problem, how you collect and process data to substantiate your claims. Moreover, the discussion section should focus on the results achieved in comparison to previous studies. What's new, what conflicts arise with them, and what your perspective is. If you address these aspects effectively, your article will significantly improve in quality. Best wishes.
