

Review of: "Measuring the Effectiveness of Internship Programs in Aligning Education with Industry: A Comprehensive Analysis of Internship Outcomes in the College of Communication and Media During COVID-19"

Robert Gill<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Swinburne University of Technology

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I agree with most of the comments from the other reviewers. I believe the paper needs to stick with a more formal structure. Introduce the topic and background information, considering the time period being COVID, and explore this as an effect on learning, especially through internships/work-placements. Look at other methodologies and explain why this one was chosen. Analyse the findings and align or contest previous literature on the topic. Conclude from your analysis and results.

From a professional format, be consistent with the referencing. Some have & or and. Date all citations. Some include author initials in the text cite. The reference list is not in alphabetical order.