I commend the researchers for this work they have undertaken. The issue of facility management in the Higher Educational Institutions is worth studying. Therefore, the research is relevant. However, the researchers need to proof-read this work for syntax and grammatical errors. I also recommend that the Literature review should be backed up with facts and figures and examples of facilities that has not been managed properly over the years with relevant references. The conclusive aspect of the paper was also missing. Over-all, I give a Yes to the paper with all the corrections in place.
