

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Regulatory Region SNP

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Regulatory Region SNP. NCI Thesaurus. Code C41010.

Single Nucleotide Polymorphism in Regulatory Sequences (Regulatory Region SNP) consists of a variation at an appreciable frequency between individuals of a single interbreeding population of a single nucleotide, due to base substitution, at an equivalent location within a gene region that is involved in the regulation of genetic processes, such as transcription and replication.