This paper investigates mental health consequences on students and their ability to cope with the COVID-19 pandemic. The authors present descriptive statistics to describe the evidence of depression rate, anxiety, and suicide ideation.

The topic is interesting. However, in the abstract, please add general background information about your key research, a problem statement indicating your research hypothesis/question, the methodology, findings and the study's implications.

I want to suggest that the authors describe more details about the instruments. Discussing the instruments would help readers understand what is being measured.

In addition, I would like to suggest authors amend the methodology part. This is crucial because the methodology should explain the participants, instruments and procedures involved while the process occurs.

Furthermore, it would be beneficial for authors to consider using a proofreading service before submitting their papers. Although the study has potential, there is still a need for further improvements to ensure that it meets the standards for publication.
