

Review of: "Pain assessment and management for older patients with hip fractures"

Sandeep Kohli

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Well written article.

Good literature review dealing with how to assess the pain in this patient group and also with the various modalities of pain relief.

The narrative of the benefits of providing pain relief is well written and adequately conveys the importance of pain relief in this patient group.

There are a few grammatical corrections that are needed.