Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I find there are issues with the citations. I request the authors to improve it.

I suggest authors write motivation more interestingly to engage the readers.

The formal analysis of this paper is, moreover, in case study mode.

I find that there is a lack of theoretical layout. Authors need to survey the literature in a current strand of literature.

The manuscript needs to proofread as there are grammatical errors.

The conclusion needs to be more aligned with the motivation and research objective.
