Thanks for the interesting work, however major revisions are needed to improve the clarity of paper presentation.

1. In the introduction, you need to connect the state of the art to your paper goals. Please follow the literature review by a clear and concise state of the art analysis. This should clearly show the knowledge gaps identified and link them to your paper goals. Please highlight your novelty/ gap of the study in both of your abstract and manuscript
2. please show the mains contribution of the studies instead saying of emphasizing on who analysed what. A qualified literature should cite less work in explaining the method used in various studies, but illustrate more your own contributions. Comparisons between yours and the previous studies are necessary.
