Thank you for the opportunity to review this paper. Good attempt in gathering information on ayurvedic crops and their potentials. However, it is found that the content of this manuscript is too limited, including methodology, results, and discussion. It is suggested that authors find more references to be used and apply appropriate methodology for preparing a review paper. The writing style can be improved by looking at more sample papers to see the style of academic writing. It is highly suggested that authors send this manuscript for proofreading prior to submission.

Attached is the reviewed manuscript for your reference.

Thank you
