

Review of: "Solving tensions within Technical Rescue in England and Wales"

Ravee Phoewhawm<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Chongqing Technology and Business University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This is an interesting article. For the purpose of getting it published in an academic journal, the work needs to focus on “the idea of professionalization as a way of exemplifying the differences between certain aspects of MR in England and Wales” with the aim of illustrating the differences between certain aspects of mountain rescue in England and Wales.

Thus, the research questions/hypothesis should be formed from the perspective of technical rescue, role of climbing expertise in Mountain Rescue, and implications for learning and effectiveness, which are also the objectives of the study.

It was mentioned that action research was implemented in collecting the data for analysis. The author can describe in deeper details how the action research was conducted.

Upon analyzing the data based on the research questions/hypothesis, the section of “illustrating the differences between certain aspects of mountain rescue in England and Wales” should be written from the authors' theoretical point of view.

Wishing all the best to the authors on getting this paper to be published in the future.