

Review of: "The Role of Financial Literacy on Sustainable Development of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) in Africa"

Isabel Oliveira<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Universidade Lusitana

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The topic analysed in this article is very relevant and topical. It is crucial for the development of the economies in question, as it helps to reduce the social inequalities that exist in these countries.

The objectives are well defined and clearly presented for the subject.

The literature review is solid, well-founded and recent.

The methodology is appropriate to the proposed objectives and significant, with the development of a probit model, which represents added value for this research.

As well as being well-structured, the article is clearly written in terms of developing the topic under analysis and answers all the research hypotheses.