

Review of: "[Hypothesis] The protective role of Testosterone in COVID-19"

Rosario Pivonello¹

¹ University of Naples Federico II

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The manuscript briefly refers to the potential protective role of testosterone in COVID-19 by means of its immunomodulatory action and anti-inflammatory properties. The manuscript does not add novelty to the largely published literature concerning this topic, and also the specific aspect addressed (not the only mechanism of testosterone in COVID-19) is not exhaustively covered.