

Review of: "How Urban Heat Islands Effect Crime: Understanding the Implications of Temperature, Population Density, and Green Canopy Cover in Shaping Built Environments"

Nevset Gul Canakcioglu¹

¹ Ozyegin University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

- The introduction section should be designed to explain the gap in the theoretical background and the necessity of this article. However, we cannot find a bibliographical framework for this discussion in the introduction.
- By sharing the images of the urban area selected for analysis, the physical and social characteristics of the urban area can be shared with the reader.
- If a direct effect of urban heat on crime is not found in the concluding section, a broader discussion paragraph on the parameters influencing crime can be addressed towards the end of the article and guide future research.