

Review of: "Land Size Class Wise Growth of Crop Diversification Index: A Case Study From Murshidabad District of West Bengal"

Amartya Pani¹

¹ Indian Institute of Technology, Guwahati

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This research explores an important topic with a specific case study, but not a new one. By addressing the areas for improvement, you can strengthen the overall impact and credibility of your work.

1. Consider including data from more recent years (beyond 2015-16) to show a more comprehensive trend.
2. While diversification is mentioned, explore including different perspectives on the concept (e.g., high-value crops vs. multiple crops).
3. Expand on the link between diversification and potential growth in income or wealth for farmers. Does the study suggest a correlation with specific types of diversification?
4. Include relevant citations to support your research and discussions, especially regarding diversification benefits and limitations.
5. The suggestion of capacity-building programs for farmers highlights a practical application of the research.
6. Strengthen the connection between the findings, objectives, and discussion points.