

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Attenuated Chédiak-Higashi syndrome

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base. Attenuated Chédiak-Higashi syndrome. ORPHA:352723

Attenuated Chédiak-Higashi syndrome (CHS) is a very rare and atypical form of CHS (see this term), a genetic disorder characterized by partial oculocutaneous albinism (OCA, see this term), severe immunodeficiency, mild bleeding, neurological dysfunction and lymphoproliferative disorder.