

Review of: "On the existence of precession of planets' orbits in Newtonian gravity"

Jean Pierre Rozelot¹

¹ Université Côte d'Azur

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This article is somewhat disruptive, but contains material for further thinking. Well built, easy to follow the arguments. I enjoyed it, especially when you think outside the box. No problem for the publication.