

Review of: "Organizing the Asian Development Bank: Radical Transformation or Degenerative Irrelevance?"

Jacob Dahl Rendtorff<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Roskilde University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper is fine and gives a good overview of the situation. The author discusses the organization challenges of the Asian Development Bank. The author knows the subject. I would have liked more discussion of the ethical and social challenges in terms of CSR and sustainable development. This is essential for banking today. There is also the problem of good corporate conduct that accomplishes the financial strategy. This could also be better developed. If the author contributes with this, I can recommend the article for publication.