Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. Title: Check the title. Word 'temperature' can be removed. Just focus on thermal comfort-already cover the temperature by meaning. Cover 2 things-patient safety and climate change sustainability but not show in the body of article.
2. Abstract: need to revised. Your problem statement, methodology, and results was not clear. Difficult to read.
3. Introduction: need to be revised based on the priority. objectives good to be provided at the end of paragraph instead at the middle of introduction, and later suddenly come another objective at the end of introduction. Make the reader confused. Not focusing on the thermal comfort. No in line with the title.
4. Rearrange the body of this paper. Your direction is not clear and not structured.
5. bibliography not up to date. Use within 5 years back. More relevant.
