

Review of: "The Ontic Probability Interpretation of Quantum Theory – Part I"

Abdelaziz El Moussaouy¹

¹ Université Mohammed Premier

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This work can be interesting if the author considers the procedure of writing a paper. The abstract must contain the research objective, methodology, and main results without citing references. The introduction part must contain the novelty of the work. The author could present a clear methodology and well-discussed results. So, I cannot recommend this paper for publication in its present form.