I was pleased to review your article and I have the following comments

The paper is overall well written

The conclusion is based on the purpose of the article. Please do not remove the purpose of the article from the conclusion section

In the results, the associations derived by statistical analysis need to be clarified

Has the validity and reliability of the questionnaire been investigated?

Since the epidemic has now stopped and general vaccination is no longer a priority, and on the other hand, various studies have been published in different parts of the world on acute complications of vaccination, this article, which is only a report of acute complications, is not novel.

I believe that it is better to report late side effects of vaccination in this article as well.
