

Review of: "Knowledge among Health care workers (HCWs) regarding biomedical waste management (BMW) during COVID-19 Pandemic"

Aleksandra Pašić

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear Sir, I would like to congratulate the authors on completing the study and submitting it for review. The topic of your work is of great importance for biomedicine and the improvement of good practice. The sample size is good. In order for the paper to gain significance, you must add previous studies related to the topic. The research methodology is too short and should be expanded. You need to expand the discussion by highlighting your research findings and discussing them further. Also, there are not enough references to support your study.