

Review of: "The Rural-Urban Divide: Insights from Immuno-Genetic Profiles and Implications for Health"

Chuan-Xu Chen

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

More than 15 reviewers have commented on this paper. I just raised certain concerns that need to be improved or clarified.

1. More information (basic population characteristics) should be presented for the rural and matched urban groups.
2. How was the match performed between "a subset of the rural population sample and matched urban controls"?
3. Which specific method of ELISA was used to measure IgE, using commercial kits or a lab-based assay?