

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Pyosalpinx

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Pyosalpinx. NCI Thesaurus. Code C34968.

The presence of pus in the fallopian tube. It is usually caused by acute salpingitis. The fallopian tube is distended and filled with pus. Histologic examination reveals edema and acute and chronic inflammation. Symptoms include fever, vaginal discharge, and pelvic pain.