

Review of: "The pros and cons of utilizing crude herbal preparations as opposed to purified active ingredients, with emphasis on the COVID pandemic"

Aissa Boukhiar¹

¹ University of Boumerdes

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

In recent years, the utilization of medicinal plants for treating illnesses has been progressively overlooked in numerous regions, especially within urban areas. However, the emergence of the COVID-19 pandemic has showcased a distinct revival of interest in the utilization of medicinal plants.

In my opinion, the manuscript is well-written. The authors could consider incorporating information about some others primary plants known for their anti-viral effects against COVID-19, with a particular focus on extensively researched like olive leaves.