

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Neuroendocrine neoplasm of appendix

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base.

Neuroendocrine neoplasm of appendix. ORPHA:100079

Endocrine tumor of the appendix is the most common sporadic neoplasm of the appendix and the second most common type of digestive endocrine tumor, often with no specific clinical presentation. They are divided into either classic endocrine tumor of the appendix or the more aggressive goblet cell carcinoma (GCC; see these terms).