Greetings,

Abstract: Please provide the methods, study analysis, discussion, and conclusion in the abstract.

Why are you still using future tense in the abstract?

In the introduction, the abbreviation should be written in the full term initially (GCC).

The introduction should be displayed in a clear and specific way in presenting the themes and subthemes. Start to review globally, then zoom in to the region and country of study.

Methods: Need to be revised. Not clear to readers. Research methods are abundant, and the author needs to specify which method was used. What about the rest of the information? How was data collected?

Some main missing points: brief description of the study setting, population, target respondents, inclusion and exclusion criteria....etc

Sample size calculation?

Data collection method? Be specific.

How did the author control that only Arab youth answered the questionnaire?

Are the tools in Arabic or English?

Please provide the study analysis explanations in the methods section. Please explain how the authors adhered to the report's guidelines in the methods section.

Conclusion and recommendations need to be revised to actually reflect what was concluded in the study.
