Dear author:

First of all, thank you for your research. The topic is of great relevance and interest. I strongly recommend that you expand the literature review and also include more recent literature. It may be beneficial to consider it.

It should also be interesting for you to widely discuss the role of social media on this topic in your following research. I know it has been covered, but due to the importance of this issue, it could be addressed more widely in following research.

Kindest regards,
