The topic is interesting and updated. I have few recommendations that are needed to be addressed by the authors.

1. many extra definitions and explanations are needed to be omitted. it provides an image of thesis rather than research article.
2. questionnaire validity test results are to be pasted here.
3. questionnaire must be share having sub questions of the five independent variables.
4. why not more than 5 independent variables are selected?
5. is there any intermediate variable among these five variables ?
6. how this study fits to other developing nations?
