Dear Editor,

The manuscript contains a vast amount of information compiled from various sources and is useful to readers. Nevertheless, it has certain mistakes, and clarification is needed on several points. These have been highlighted in the version attached with the email to the Editor, as I do not find a facility to do it online here. Please pass on the PDF version where the corrections have been highlighted to the authors so that they could incorporate them in the revised version, which could then be accepted for publication.

Regards,

Dr. G. Padmaja
