

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Microtubule Polymerization Process

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Microtubule Polymerization Process. NCI Thesaurus. Code C19556.

Microtubule polymerization is a cellular process typically, though not solely, involved in cell motility and cell division. Stabilization of microtubule polymerization causes interruption of mitosis and is the mode of action of several antineoplastic agents.