Dear editorial team and authors,

I analyzed the article in question and, unfortunately, I recommend not publishing it due to the following reasons:

1. the manuscript does not agree with the title of the article, requiring greater methodological depth in the description of the problems that the article seeks to address.
2. I believe it is necessary to search for current bibliographic references, in addition is necessary exploring examples of the themes covered in the manuscript in places other than Zimbabwe.
3. The bibliographic reference "Minava, 2000" is cited in the manuscript, however, it is not included in the bibliographic references. "Steiniger at al" is mentioned in the references but is not in the manuscript.

In general, the gaps that I was able to identify can be easily remedied. I suggest that authors observe the reviewers' comments and resubmit the manuscript for further consideration. I hope contributed positively with my observations.

Cordially
