

Review of: "Developing and Supporting High-Performing Faculty Teams in Engineering Institutions"

Prasanta Guha

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear Author,

The topic is very much relevant in the present Indian scenario.

The suggestions to the author for making the paper acceptable:

Lack in flow in is observed in the overall writing of the paper. Better to rethink on writing style.

Citation in the body needs to be increased. The firmly stated statements needs to be substantiated by the related studies.

The first objective is seemed to be unstructured. Better to reframe.

Research Methodology needs to be restructured. More clarity in research methodology will make the paper sound.

Discussion on Questionnaire framing is suggested to increase the understanding of the paper.

Rethink on the positioning of the different sections of the paper. Say, Objectives are generated after studying different literatures and finding the research gaps. Therefore placing of Literature Review is suggested before Objectives.

Better to avoid bullet points in the paper.

Better to rework on the analysis part in terms of writing style.

Finally requested to focus on language part.

Best wishes