Dear Ahmed Balami

The article is useful for publication in Qeios, but it needs the following modifications:

- You made a fascinating mention about people receiving various medication therapies. A more thorough examination of the causes of these phenomena would, however, improve the paper. Patients typically only receive one therapy; therefore, knowing what causes the prevalence of multiple pharmacological therapy in Nguru to be higher would importantly background.
- In addition, you should mention the statistical methods of SPSS.
- Edit the references and add a DOI to the end of each reference. Moreover, you should preferably use more recent references in the article.
