The article is a good one dealing with a pertinent topic. Few areas need to be revamped-

1. The full forms of acronyms like ESP and EFL should have been stated at the beginning when they were mentioned.
2. Introduction and Review of Literature need to be segregated. It is not clearly mentioned in the article.
3. Recent citations are hardly visible in the article. More recent citations would be good to include.
4. In conclusion, "Thai university professors" has been written, while work was on Tunisian university teachers. This needs to be corrected.
