

Review of: "Towards Responsible AI-Assisted Scholarship: Comparative Assessment of Generative Models and Adoption Recommendations"

Omar Mohammed Horani<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Al-Ahliyya Amman University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is well-structured, with a logical flow across the literature review, methods, findings, discussion and conclusion. Limitations are acknowledged transparently. The writing largely adheres to clear scholarly conventions with an appropriate academic tone. References are comprehensive and formatted correctly. Overall, the study makes several notable contributions to the emerging literature on integrating generative AI into academic research.