

Review of: "Performance Evaluation and Analysis of Electric Vehicle Parameters – A Test Bench"

Karin Kandananond¹

¹ Phranakorn Rajabhat University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This is an interesting and detailed article. However, the authors should provide more information regarding battery parameters in section H. There is still some room for improvement in the analysis and conclusion, which should give additional insight reflected from the research results. The optimal EV parameters based on the results of this article should be implemented in a real-life situation for validation.