

Review of: "Sentiment Analysis on Social Media"

Aysha Khan

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

There are some suggestions for the paper:

1. The abstract needs to be rewritten as one can't identify the main purpose of the paper by looking at it. The authors should focus on mentioning a brief description of what have they implemented in their paper along with the results achieved.
2. In the complete paper, I am unable to understand the actual implementation details performed. The whole paper is discussing only about the techniques and the social media stats.
3. There is no implementation, no model description, what are the results achieved, which model performed better. Everything is lacking in the paper.

I would suggest the authors to please discuss the implementation part which is nowhere present in the paper.