This research work is indeed a timely study and the researcher was quite lucid with the problem statement as well as the research objectives.

I applaud the orderliness in the study which makes it an interesting read. However, it would be difficult to make statistical inferences from the sample owing to the possibility of bias on the judgement of the researcher. A more convincing approach to draw an appropriate sample would have been the iterative approach, although it could be more time consuming but it gives room for less bias.
