

Open Peer Review on Qeios

SUNCT Syndrome

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. SUNCT Syndrome. NCI Thesaurus. Code C85174.

A rare disorder characterized by episodes of short-lasting pain in one eye or one side of the head. The pain attacks are associated with watery eyes, swelling of the eyelids, sweaty forehead, and nasal congestion.

Qeios ID: WP77WN · https://doi.org/10.32388/WP77WN