

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Generalized dominant dystrophic epidermolysis bullosa

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base.

Generalized dominant dystrophic epidermolysis bullosa. ORPHA:231568

Generalized dominant dystrophic epidermolysis bullosa (DDEB-gen) is a subtype of dystrophic epidermolysis bullosa (DEB, see this term), formerly known as DDEB, Pasini and Cockayne-Touraine types, characterized by generalized blistering, milia formation, atrophic scarring, and dystrophic nails.