

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Calciophylaxis cutis

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base.

Calciophylaxis cutis. ORPHA:280065

Calciophylaxis cutis is a life-threatening syndrome characterized by progressive and painful skin ulcerations associated with media calcification of medium-size and small cutaneous arterial vessels. It affects mainly patients on dialysis or after renal transplantation.