Thank you for asking to review this manuscript on very interesting topic of etiological models of pathogenesis of KD and MIS.

I am little confused about this review as many facts seems liked based on personal opinion or hypotheses and rather than on evidence. I think article needs to be structure better with more heading than just introduction and disucssion. Authors instead of saying I proposed can say authors have previously published or proposed this mechanism.

The manuscript lacks flow and thus suggest a rewrite with better structuring.

Can consider a Figure or flow chart or infographic suggesting mechanism of KD/MIS
