After thorough review of the article I find it has the academic rigor. But more attention has to be put on theoretical review. The theories has to bear in mind the personalities behind the theory, assumption/theoretical statement, strength/weakness of the theory and application of the theory. Conceptual framework in it's present state depict four mediation and one moderation. The study reported only three mediation and no moderation. This need to be revisited to reflect the conceptualization. Finally, the study has too many objectives and hypotheses to be reported in only one paper preferably other hypotheses can be reserved for other paper. Thank you
