

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Myocardial Contractility Measurement

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Myocardial Contractility Measurement. NCI Thesaurus. Code C120545.

An assessment of the intrinsic ability of the myocardium to contract, which subsequently determines the force (pressure) with which blood is ejected from both ventricles, and contributes to measured values like blood pressure and cardiac output.