

Review of: "A Novel Computational Approach for Solving Fully Implicit Singular Systems of Ordinary Differential Equations"

Ercan Çelik

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear Editor-In-Chief;

First of all; I thank you for considering me as a referee for this article. I have reviewed the article thoroughly.

Title : A Novel Computational Approach for Solving Fully Implicit Singular Systems of Ordinary Differential Equations

Journal : Qeios

In my view;

The title has a convenient way of presenting its content. The layout of the article is well organized. The paper are illustrative and suitable for readers. Moreover, the authors are going to contribute to those studying in the field.

In conclusion; I recommend the publication of the article.

With by best regards.