Dear Sir,

Please find the comments

1. The topic of your manuscript is within scope of the journal, but considerable work needs to be done before the manuscript is ready for review. For example, there is no methods section, and result section the aims are not clearly linked to each aspect. There are other problems as well. While these issues can be fixed, the context provided is very local and I feel the work is just the assignment of the class. For a journal you need to follow the guidelines of the journal and its always good to see some sample journal paper.

2. After careful evaluation, I think you should rewrite the manuscript staying on the guidelines of it.
