Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The manuscript discusses the potential of Indian costus against viruses like COVID. In general, a lot of information needs to be added for this manuscript to be a review/mini-review.

Title: I think a straightforward title would be good instead of asking a question.

Abstract: Too little information and some of it was repeated in the Introduction section.

Introduction: This part is too short for a mini-review. There is a lot of information that can be added to the manuscript such as botany, taxonomy, distribution, etc of Indian costus. The introduction to COVID-19 needs to be in detail. This will give a better clarity to the reader.
