

Review of: "A Mathematical Characterisation of COVID-19 in Mauritius"

Crishelen Kurezyn Díaz<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Universidad Popular Autónoma del Estado de Puebla

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The problem is clearly stated since all those factors related to the explored theme are explained, and it gives the reader a clear idea about the content of the study.

The topic is very interesting and pertinent. However, I would suggest delving into the benefits of the research in terms of convenience, social relevance, practical implications, theoretical value, and methodological utility.

The article is well written, but it is important to verify the grammar since otherwise the meaning of what is to be expressed is modified, as well as the use of punctuation marks since some ideas are very long and it is necessary to use commas or period and followed to provide a greater pause and emphasis to the ideas presented.

Finally, it is necessary to include a greater number of sources within the text to provide theoretical support for everything that is stated.