

Review of: "Ethnobotanical Documentation of Yerba Mate in Syria"

Tahereh Jamali¹

¹ Shahed University, Iran, Islamic Republic of Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare. No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear Authors,

Thank you for submitting your manuscript titled "Ethnobotanical Documentation of Yerba Mate in Syria." After careful consideration, I regret to inform you that the manuscript is not acceptable for publication at this time. The primary concerns are as follows:

- The manuscript lacks comprehensive and robust data, which limits its contribution to the field.
- The analysis does not provide sufficient depth or context to support the findings, affecting its relevance and applicability.
- The findings are not sufficiently positioned within a broader ethnobotanical context, which diminishes their significance.
- While the study suggests areas for future investigation, it does not provide substantial insights or implications based on the current findings.

These issues suggest that the manuscript does not meet the journal's standards for publication. I encourage you to consider these points for future revisions or submissions.

Best regards,