

Peer Review

Review of: "Changes in Leukocyte Indices of Holstein Cows Under Prolonged Heat Stress Conditions"

Indunil Pathirana¹

1. Department of Animal Science, University of Ruhuna, Sri Lanka

Thank you for revising the manuscript for a third time and moving the description of the variation among individual cows' leukocyte indices from the results section to the discussion section. Presenting minimum-maximum values for leukocyte indices in the table would be easier for readers, but I understand the authors' concerns with the limited number of observations. I have no further comments and agree with version 3.

Declarations

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.